Re: Advisory Letter

FPPC Case No. 06/0135; Occidental Arts and Ecology Center, Californians for GE-Free Agriculture

Dear Ms. Brillinger:

The Fair Political Practices Commission (the "FPPC") enforces the provisions of the Political Reform Act (the "Act").¹ As you are aware, the FPPC received a complaint alleging Occidental Arts and Ecology Center ("OAEC") and Californians for GE-Free Agriculture ("CGA") violated the Act. In summary, the complaint alleged that OAEC and CGA used donor funds to make political contributions, and violated the Act by not disclosing these donors as the true source of the funds on recipient committee campaign statements.

Our investigation did not reveal that donor funds were used to make political contributions and we did not find OAEC and CGA violated the Act. As a result, we are closing this case with this advisory letter.

Please be advised under Regulation 18215, subdivision (b)(1) there is a presumption that donors do not have reason to know that all or part of their payments made to an organization will be used for political activities in California unless the organization has made political expenditures or contributions totaling at least $1,000 during the calendar year or any of the immediately preceding four calendar years using donor funds. Once this threshold has been met, if donor funds are used by the organization to make additional expenditures or contributions, the donors, not the organization, are reportable as the contributors on the required campaign statement.

The Commission publishes forms and manuals to facilitate compliance with the provisions of the Act and provides guidance regarding filing obligations over the telephone and through written advice.
